Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore,

(1) Note dated the 11th August 1911 by the Chief Engineer of Mysore on "The Future of the Marikanave Reservoir Project."

(2) Note dated the 11th September 1912 by the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, submitting detailed proposals for introducing the Block System of irrigation under the reservoir with a summary of his recommendations requiring sanction.

(3) Other papers relating to the details of the scheme.

No. 1608-12—9875-9, DATED BANGALORE, 5TH DECEMBER 1912.

ORDER THEREON.—An outlay of nearly Rs. 45 lakhs has been incurred in constructing the Marikanave Reservoir and the canals. The works classed under capital account have all been completed with the exception of a few improvements to the canals which are now considered necessary.

2. The project was originally intended as a protective irrigation scheme commanding, by means of a high level canal, a large area of land in a tract which is subject to scanty rainfall. But the high level canal was subsequently abandoned with a view to make arrangements for generating electric power under the reservoir. The modified scheme, as finally executed, was designed to irrigate about 25,000 acres of wet land under two low level canals taking off at an anikat five miles below the dam.

3. Government have been anxiously watching, for several years, the trend of irrigation development under the reservoir and the results have so far been disappointing. Continuous irrigation and oversaturation of lands under the canals have given rise to malaria, water-logging and saline efflorescence. The area under irrigation has not advanced beyond about 25 per cent of the land commanded, while almost the whole of the annual average supply impounded by the reservoir which is sufficient for irrigating nearly three times the area, is being fully drawn off. Consequently, the reservoir has shown no sign of filling.

4. Owing to the situation that has arisen, it has become necessary to devise effective remedial measures for prevention of malaria and for making the scheme more useful and remunerative, if possible.

5. After going into the question fully, the Chief Engineer proposes to adopt the Block System of irrigation, which was introduced several years ago under the Nira canal in the Bombay Presidency, to combat evils similar to those complained of under the Marikanave Reservoir. According to this system, irrigation is to be restricted to well-defined blocks of the best land situated not too close to inhabited villages. The total area included in the blocks laid out for irrigation is to be only about 33 per cent of the land commanded. As far as possible, high rated and perennial crops are to be cultivated in the blocks in rotation with irrigated dry crops. The system has already been under trial for several years in British India and is reported to have yielded excellent results. From the isolated and restricted nature of the irrigation practised in blocks, the system, if combined with measures for sanitation and drainage, is expected to prove an effective remedy against malaria.

6. The total average annual receipt into the lake, available for irrigation, is stated to be 18,000 units as made out from observations of supplies during the last twelve years.

The Chief Engineer proposes to irrigate in blocks about 8,000 acres under the low level canals and another 8,000 to 10,000 acres under the proposed high level canal to be constructed at an outlay of Rs. 6 to 8 lakhs later on.

7. The Chief Engineer has submitted the following proposals for sanction:—

(1) That the Block System of irrigation be introduced for six years with effect from 1st July 1913, the working of the system being entrusted to the Public Works Department.

Public Works, dated 5th December 1912.

(2) That the land and irrigation revenue be separated and a water rate of Rs. 5 per acre be levied on all lands included in the blocks for the first six years.

(3) That Mr. K. Narasimha Iyengar, Amildar of Hiriyur, be placed on special duty for six months for completing the arrangements necessary to give effect to the scheme.

(4) That a lump sum grant of Rs. 5,000 be sanctioned for excavating distributary channels and constructing new sluices, where necessary, to irrigate the land included in the blocks.

(5) That approval be given to frame an Irrigation Act on the lines of those in force in the British Provinces.

8. Government, after careful consideration of the proposals submitted, are pleased to approve of the introduction of the scheme for six years in the first instance and sanction the recommendations of the Chief Engineer in their entirety.

9. The Superintending Engineer, Northen Circle, is requested to submit proposals for making the necessary preliminary arrangements to give effect to the scheme from 1st July 1913. The blocks laid out may be revised once more in consultation with the Deputy Commissioner and the raiyats concerned.

10. The Revenue Commissioner is requested to arrange to place the services of Mr. K. Narasimha Iyengar, Amildar of Hiriyur, on special duty for six months in connection with the division of the holdings included in the blocks and other work necessary to bring the system into working order.

But an additional grant has since been sanctioned by Government on account of surveys and construction of new lines. The total grant, therefore, now stands at Rs. 24,67,000 which is made up of Rs. 20,67,000 sanctioned by Government in their Proceedings read above and Rs. 4,00,000 raised by the District Board of Kolar towards the cost of construction of the Bowringpet-Kolar Railway.
